Mr. Crawford Wood Esq.,
156th & Broadway
New York City.

Dear Sir:

I'm a constant reader of the New Yorker I ran across the item "coins and badges" which also spoke of yourself.

I have labored collected and finally come to entertain a certain distinct love for the coin.

Here I venture to ask if you have any literature or pamphlets pertaining to activities of the American Annismatic Society; also of course themselves. If such be the case will you be so kind as to forward any to the writer at his expense.

Thanking you for this opportunity of addressing you,
I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

Replying to your letter of November 18th, this Society does not issue printed or catalogues. Our only publications take the form of a series of Numismatic Notes and Monographs of which a list is enclosed. I am also attaching a descriptive circular of the American Numismatic Association which is distinct from this organization, and should you feel so inclined, I am enclosing an application card for membership to this Society. The dues are five dollars annually in return for which members receive the monographs published during the year. I would also refer you to the secretary of the Chicago Coin Club, Mr. E. J. Lawless, 2224 South Spaulding Avenue, Chicago.

I hope this information will prove helpful and satisfactory.

Very truly yours,

Curator.
